President's Message

Dear Beta Beta Sisters,
I recently found myself in a conversation with a "convention friend" from another chapter—one of those people you sat next to at one of the big meetings who entertained you during the boring parts. She was frustrated because she felt like her chapter's last meeting was a waste of her time. When she asked about our meetings, I told her about our recent one at IHOP where we had a great turnout, we accomplished the business we needed to, we had an informal program, and we laughed and caught up with each other. She plans to share that model with her chapter instead of not attending the next meeting. She is sure others feel the same way she did. Sisters, we are living in a time of division, fear, and uncertainty; and we need to remember to focus on the good in the world and ways we can share more positives instead of negatives. Instead of criticizing or boycotting, offer another option because we have to remember to support each other, help each other, build each other up. And then we need to remember to share that with everyone we encounter. Slow down for that person to cross the parking lot. Allow that car to pull out in front of you. Compliment a great pair of shoes. A few seconds of kindness can make a bad day melt away. And it might even be paid forward. In Sisterhood,
Sharon
